PLATTE COUNTY FAIR NEWS

“Diligent Daughter....” Melodrama Will Entertain Fairgoers

Since 1987 Fair Based Productions has been entertaining the Platte County Fairgoers with Old West melodramas.

This year the company will bring to life “Diligent Daughter or Lips that Touch Wine by Jerry James.

The story revolves around Nellie and Naomi Nice who are in search of their father who has disappeared. He must be found before midnight so they can claim their family inheritance from poor, departed Aunt Hester's estate. But, if they fail, the entire estate goes to the Bilious Brewery. Of course, there are many twists and turns in the story....and many opportunities to cheer the heroes and boo the villains – audience participation is welcomed.

The show will go on at 7 p.m. nightly at the fair (July 21-24) in the Platte Pavilion. The fairgrounds are located off I-29 at exit 18 or 20.

For further information regarding the Melodrama, or other events scheduled for the Pavilion (the Adult Talent Contest, Queen Contest, Fiddle Contest, or Open Mike,) contact Howard Prost at (816)587-1080 or FBP@sbcglobal.net.
